It's nice when people know your name.

According to a recent study of well-known national trademarks by Public Relations Journal, Elsie was the most widely recognized. Over 93% of the people questioned identified Elsie with Borden.

For forty years, people have associated Elsie with Borden quality. She represents the flavor, freshness and value we've built our name on. And we're proud of the fact that she's so well-known.

If it's Borden, it's got to be good.

The Individual Retirement Account

In 1982 the individual retirement account was made available to virtually every working individual. This marked the start of one of the greatest tax saving opportunities available to the average working taxpayer. Prior to 1982, IRA's were not available to those already participating in qualified pension plans. Now such individuals can contribute up to the lesser of 100% of compensation or $2,000.00.

The advantage, taxwise, is the $2,000.00 contributed can be deducted from the individual's gross income. Therefore, a taxpayer in the 30% tax bracket would save $600.00 in federal tax alone. In addition, any amounts earned from contributions are not taxed until they are distributed to you. The theory is that the person's tax bracket will be much lower upon retirement and therefore significant tax savings will have resulted. The rules do not allow withdrawals until a person reaches the age of 591/2. Premature withdrawals will be subiect to a 10% non-deductible excise tax.

It is not too late to set up and make contributions to an individual retirement account for 1982, if you have not already done so. Deductions can be taken for 1982 as long as they are made prior to the time your return is filed, including extensions. Most banks, savings and loans, credit unions and brokerage firms offer these accounts.

If you file a joint return and both spouses have earned income of at least $2,000.00 in 1982, you may deduct up to $4,000.00. If your spouse does not work, you may contribute a maximum of $2,250.00. This amount may be divided in any manner you choose between a spousal IRA account or two separate plans as long as no more than $2,000.00 is contributed to either account.

To illustrate compound interest, assume an individual begins investing $2,000.00 a year into a IRA account at age 25. By the time this individual reaches the normal retirement age of 65, he would have amassed over $885,000.00 assuming a 10% interest rate compounded annually. That is quite a nest egg to retire on.

The Keogh Plan

In addition to your own IRA account, you may be able to contribute to a Keogh Plan as well, provided you are self-employed. Beginning in 1982 the contribution rate was increased to the lesser of 15% of net income or $15,000.00, up from $7,500.00 in previous years. Like an IRA, you may make contributions for 1982 up to the due date of your return. including extensions. However, unlike an IRA, you must have had the plan established in 1982 to take advantage of a 1982 deduction.
